

“Coming together is a beginning, staying together is progress, and working together is success.” – Henry Ford

To be a great people manager you need to learn how to foster great teamwork. That's why at Select Education we have partnered with The Open Polytechnic of New Zealand to offer you the National Certificate in First Line Management (Level 4).

The programme is designed for people already working in or moving towards positions such as team leader, supervisor, charge hand or first line manager. It has been developed for those already working in Early Childhood Education.

This opportunity is a unique way of achieving a nationally recognised NZQA approved qualification that has practical value to you in the workplace.

The programme consists of nine unit standards in total. It is broken down into two workshops:

1. People Management
2. Business Management

You will learn via a combination of distance learning (paper based) and tailored workshops (contact based) so you can earn while you learn.
